WHEELING VS. ECLIPSE

The Game Was a Genuine Comedy of Errors.

THE GRAND STAND WAS PACKED

The Old Reliable Players of Last Year Away Up in the Air—A Mountain of Errors Gave the Wheeling Club an Easy Victory—A Six Inning Game—Patrons of the Game Very Much Disappointed.

There was a game of supposititious baseball at West End park yesterday afternoon, game being called at 4 o'clock. There was a splendid audience present in the grand stand, and a large audience outside the fence, the latter composed largely of adults, very eager to see a game, but clinging to the 25 cents necessary to bring them inside the grounds as tenaciously as death to a gentleman of color. 'Tis a pity that those who go to the trouble and expense of bringing a visiting club to East Liverpool cannot have an enclosed ground, in order to shut out from view the class who can and will not pay for the privilege of seeing a game.

At the commencement of the seventh inning the threatening rain came down, and the umpire called the game. Following is the score:

ECLIPSE	R.	H.	P.	A.	E.

Bases on balls—By Lynch, 4; by Johnson, 1. Struck out—By Lynch, 4; by Johnson, 4; by McGraver, 2. Three-base hits—Albright, McNicol and Shaw. Passed balls—Finch, 3; Violet, 4; Shaw, 2. Hit by pitcher—By Lynch, 2. Wild pitches—Lynch, 6; McCurran, 3. Umpire—Carey. Time of game—1:45.

Game was called with the Wheeling club at the bat, Lynch pitching and Finch receiving for the Eclipse. Lynch was as wild as the Jack rabbit of the plains, wild pitches being responsible for a number of runs for the opposing nine, while the Wheeling boys ran bases at will, it being an easy thing to steal from second to third. McNicol, at short, made some dandy nice stops of some very hot drives, and on several occasions fired the ball like a shot over first base—but only in that direction, as the basemen could not have touched them without the use of a ladder or balloon. Lester, at second, played as if he was employed by the down-the-river boys, letting almost everything that came in his domain go by him, and when McNicol handed him a ball at second, giving him a splendid opportunity for a neat double play, he simply let the ball roll out of his hands, and both runners were safe. Dennis McCurran, in left field, usually a sure receiver in that department, had three nice flies sent out to him, and he muffed them with the greatest ease and grace—the latter word requiring a prefix. Godwin, at third base, played a nice game, taking care of everything that came his way, grounders or flies, foul or fair. Percy Albright delighted the home crowd in the first inning by sending a three bagger over center fielder's head. Twaddle had two hits, one run and no errors. Nibbo Carey filled the umpire's berth, and did his duty intelligently and conscientiously.

Jack Darrah and his players acted as if they knew they had a picnic. There was very little kicking at the decisions of the umpire. When one of the Wheeling players cut first base by a margin of about ten feet, Darrah cried out to the umpire: "Call him out; call him out."

As early as the commencement of the fourth inning a number of those who love to see a good game, hotly and earnestly contested, and who despise a "comedy of errors," left the grand stand and grounds and came home to a hot supper, determined to have a hot contest of some kind, even if they had to arrange the affair with their inner anatomy.

The roof of the grand stand was literally packed with humanity, and all went well with them until some of the number saw fit to show their contempt for those beneath them by spitting upon them, when Officer Jennings took charge of affairs and cleared the roof in a jiffy.

For the sake of baseball admirers and patrons in this community, the managers of the Eclipse will do well, if they desire continued patronage, to either make a change of certain players, or stir them up to something like their old time form of last year, when they played ball in a manner which won them warm commendation from lovers of the game. This is not harsh criticism, but simply just, as the very best friends of the men who did such miserable playing yesterday, were simply disgusted with their miserably poor work.

The social clubs of the city are also endeavoring to form a base ball league and a meeting to perfect the organization will be called soon. The prime movers in this movement is the Lotus club, who are urging their social brethren to take hold of the project and make it a go.

The Alvin club say, in answer to the challenge issued by the Lotus club to play them a game of ball, that they are ready for the fray and will play the Lotus boys at any time that the contest can be arranged to take place.

A DOCTOR MISSING.

W. T. Adams is Thought to Have Committed Suicide.

Word reached the city today that Dr. W. T. Adams, of Norwalk, is missing, and it is supposed that he committed suicide.

Monday afternoon he left the Empire hotel at Akron, accompanied by his dog, and has not been seen nor heard of since. The dog returned to the hotel in the evening covered with mud and water, seemingly very tired. The doctor has of late been very despondent because the state board of medical examiners refused to register his diploma, and accepted that of his wife.

Mrs. Adams is nearly prostrated over the absence of her husband, and fears that his despondency has driven him to take his life. Sometime ago he made a remark to the landlady of the hotel touching on suicide, but little was thought of the matter at that time.

Doctor Adams is well known in the city, as is also his wife. They have for years made monthly visits here and have a large practice.

NEW POLES

Will Be Erected by the Telephone Company in the Near Future.

R. S. Donaldson, superintendent of construction of the Central District and Printing Telegraph company, arrived in the city this morning from Salineville, where he has been looking over the proposed new telephone route to that place.

Mr. Donaldson's business here is to inspect the poles of the company with a view to placing new ones wherever they are needed. This will be hailed with delight by the people in general, as the majority of them have become tired of looking at the old, unsightly poles that have been in service since the line first entered the city.

About a year ago the company began to erect new poles in the city, and now all the old poles that are left will be torn down and new ones erected, until East Liverpool will have a set of poles that are a credit to any city. The paint has already been purchased to color the new ones, and the line that was put in a year ago will also be repainted. The uniform color of the telephone company will be used, and when they are finished they will present a handsome appearance.

A KURDISH DIRK

Received by President Purinton, the Gift of Sachtleben.

President of Council John J. Purinton received a Kurdish dirk last night, the knife being the gift of Sachtleben, who has been conducting the investigation in Armenia in the endeavor to apprehend and bring to justice the assassins of the missing bicyclist, Frank Lenz.

The dirk is a murderous looking weapon, and certainly would be a death dealing instrument in the hands of a foe. The blade of the knife is about a foot in length, and the handle, made of bone and exquisitely carved, is about half that size. President Purinton is thinking of carrying the weapon around with him as a protection against those who oppose him in the stand he has taken on the vehicle ordinance.

Many Attended.

A large number were in attendance at the social tendered the new members of the Presbyterian church last night, and a short talk was given by the Armenian who is at present staying in the city.

AN ATTORNEY SECURED

To Look Up the Law on the Vehicle Ordinance.

A MEETING OF VEHICLE OWNERS

They Decide to Test the Legality of the New Ordinance—Attorney Brookes to Look Up the Law and His Opinion Will Govern the Course to Be Followed.

There is a combined effort on foot among the liverymen, teamsters and many other owners of vehicles to test the legality of the new vehicle ordinance. Many protests are made against paying the tax, and the legality of the measure is questioned. A meeting was held last night by the vehicle people to determine upon a plan of procedure, and the advisability of seeking legal advice as to the best course to pursue was discussed. It was decided to engage counsel for guidance and a committee was appointed to wait upon Jason H. Brookes and retain his services. Mr. Brookes will look up the law dealing with this question and give his opinion.

The vehicle owners will be governed by the attorney's interpretation of the statutes, and if he deems the action of council, in drawing up a measure of this character, illegal, they will refuse to pay the tax imposed on their vehicles.

On April 12, 1893, the state legislature passed a special act, expressly for the city of East Liverpool, empowering the city council to pass an ordinance compelling the owners of vehicles to pay a tax on their conveyances. Under the general laws a statute provides for the taxation of vehicles in cities of the first class, first grade, and having some doubt that this law would not apply to cities of lesser classes and grades, it was deemed proper to have a special law enacted to cover these lesser cities. Hence the special legislation for this city.

In the year 1887 the supreme court decided, in deliberating upon a protest from Cincinnati vehicle owners, that the taxation of vehicles was constitutional. The question suggests itself, that this is a late period to file a protest. Before the ordinance became a law a chance was given all who opposed the measure to come forward and state their objections, but only two owners of vehicles were in attendance at the hearing, therefore the committee in charge were governed to a certain extent by the suggestions offered by these two, and evidently, at that time very little interest seemed apparent as to what the new measure contained.

The mayor has granted two days grace to vehicle owners in which to pay their license.

THE COMBINE.

The Central Sewerpipe Association is Not a Thing of the Past.

A special to the Wheeling News from Steubenville says all the sewerpipe firms at Toronto, with two exceptions, have withdrawn from the Central Sewerpipe association, which means the dissolution of the trust.

The Toronto Tribune, which should be authority on the matter, says that seven firms in the district dropped out, but there are still 21 firms in the combine, and will continue to do business. The retirement of the Toronto firms will make a great hole in the association, but the Central still lives and "we shall see what we see."

According to the Pittsburgh Times, Thomas F. Anderson, general manager of the combine, said the withdrawal of the seven firms would not affect the organization, as there were 100 firms outside the organization before. He also stated that the prices would not be affected by the desertion.

A SURPRISE

Accorded Mrs. Rev. Huffer at Her Home Last Night.

A party of members from the Church of Christ called at the residence of Rev. C. W. Huffer last night, it being the 35th birthday of his estimable wife. An enjoyable time was had by all present, and many handsome presents were given to the lady. The party was unexpected, and proved a genuine surprise, as Mrs. Huffer was away from home in the evening, and came back to find her parlor filled by a happy throng. She was equal to the emergency, however, and a palatable lunch was served, which was done justice. The evening was spent in social enjoyments and the merry-making kept up until a late hour.

Husbands to Burn.

FROM OUR EXCHANGES.

More Kind Words For America's Next President.

Mr. McKinley's progress is not secured by depreciating the character and worth of any other candidates. His followers respect every one of them who has entered the field with sincerity. He is going on from conquering to conquer because he represents the purpose of the vast majority of the people.—Pittsburgh News.

Senator Sherman has written a letter endorsing McKinley's financial views. It was entirely unnecessary. The people approve the stand of the Ohio candidate on the great issue, as is attested by the flocking of delegates to his standard.—Ohio State Journal.

The sentiment of the masses is known to be in favor of the Ohio candidate. That much is conceded by everybody, and it is unfair and unjust to argue that it is good politics to stifle the voice of the people under such circumstances.—Lafayette Courier.

Major McKinley has the delegates. His band wagon has over the necessary complement already on board. The music of the victorious strains for protection, reciprocity, McKinley and victory have struck up. For those who hurry there is still room, but hurry up or you will be left! None so blind as they who will not see.—Pittsburgh Press.

COMPANY E

Met For Drill Last Night at the Armory. And Were Inspected.

Company E met at the armory last night, intending to drill on lower Second street, but the inclement weather compelled the boys to remain at the hall. The chairs and tables were piled up in a corner of the room and the company lined up for inspection, which was the most rigid the boys have ever experienced. Soldiers who thought their accoutrements perfect were shown spots of rust by Captain Hill that only an eagle eye could observe. The inspection was thorough, and lasted for quite a while. The manual of arms and facings were then gone through and the boys were dismissed. The company is ordered to appear for drill on Monday night at 7 o'clock, and delinquents, without a satisfactory excuse—sickness, death or work—will be punished. The penalty for non-attendance is a fine and imprisonment until paid, while the crime of dissuading a member is a penitentiary offense.

A NATURAL MISTAKE.

Bleatings of Calves Mistaken For the Discordant Notes of a Horn.

It has come to light that the fellow with the brass horn who lives on Jackson square has been the victim of much adverse and unjust criticism by the neighbors. Subsequent developments serve to show that the unearthly nocturnal diversions accredited to him and his instrument of torture in reality were produced by two young calves penned up in an enclosure adjoining the home of the supposed musician, whose incessant bleatings with persistent regularity was painfully evident during the long hours of the night. The bellowing of the calves and the strains that proceed from a bass horn are almost identical, hence the mistake is natural. An apology is certainly due the man with the horn.

MISCHIEVOUS YOUTHS

Tear Up Shade Trees in Front of an East End Residence.

A lad named Daniel Stevenson, of the East End, was arrested by Officer Meador last night and lodged behind the bars, with a charge of malicious conduct against him. The lad, in company with another playmate, who has not been caught yet, tore up a number of small trees that Aaron McDonald recently planted in front of his residence, and for these actions a complaint was filed against the youngsters.

This afternoon Officer Meador succeeded in capturing the other lad, Roy Pinkerton, and placed him behind the bars. The mayor will probably send him to the probate judge on Monday for sentence to Lancaster reform school.

Entered Suit.

The Ceramic City Light company entered suit last evening before Justice Rose against Mrs. P. McKeever, Risinger & Leek, Jethro Manley, Jr., and Casper Geisz, for unpaid light bills. The cases will be heard at city hall on the 4 of May at 1 p. m.

THE NEW YORK TRADE

A Noticeable Improvement in China and Glass.

IMPORTING SEASON AT AN END

Dress Goods and Feminine Adornments Are Occupying the Attention of the Department Retailers—What is Being Done in Crockery Circles.

A distinct improvement in trade circles in New York has been occasioned by the greater consumption of merchandise that has set in with the more seasonable weather.

The attention of the housewife at this time of the year is naturally given to summer raiment for herself and family, and she pays little attention to the needs of her house. The store windows are filled with dress goods and articles of feminine adornment, while crockery is carried in the shelves for the present. A few firms have filled their windows with a handsome and attractive display of china, glass and bric-a-brac.

Few buyers have been in New York of late, and the importing season has practically closed. The opinion is that the orders have been well up to the mark. Trade on the road is fair in the west although the travelers send in excuses and apologies more frequent than orders. Some dealers report numerous mail orders, which, while none of them are large, aggregate a good average.

One of the oldest and experienced buyers of a large importing house is on his way from Europe, and is bringing with him a large quantity of fancy crockery and glass.

There is no general complaint about poor trade, while internal and external evidences of improvement can be seen at all the jobbing houses.

Advices from Pennsylvania and Tennessee show that potteries which have been idle for months past, have resumed. American potters since the institution of the Wilson Gorman tariff bill have been holding on to such remnant of trade as could not be taken from them, and have been making a hard struggle in the hope that the pinch of poverty would finally flood the folly of free trade with light and proof, and round about their erring countrymen. It is believed the darkest hours of American industries are about over.

Remembered For Good Service.

Captain Clint Morley and James McCullough, of the fire station, were each the recipients of a handsomely decorated dinner set yesterday. The donor of the gifts is the Standard pottery, which took this way of showing their appreciation of the effective work done when the pottery was on fire. Jim and Captain Clint admire their presents highly and are profuse in their thanks to the firm.

A Denial.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW—In the Crisis of last evening some person accused me of inhuman cruelty to one of my boys. I want you to publish a distinct denial of the paragraph. I have at least three independent witnesses to prove that I only very mildly chastised my boy for a flagrant act of disobedience.

Cut His Finger.

A. J. Boyce, while at work in the machine shop yesterday afternoon, turning a pattern, accidentally got the third finger of his left hand in the lathe. The finger was badly mashed, and the end was completely cut off. Although the wound is not serious, it is very painful, and will cause Mr. Boyce to carry it in a sling for some time.

A MEETING OF VEHICLE OWNERS

They Decide to Test the Legality of the New Ordinance—Attorney Brookes to Look Up the Law and His Opinion Will Govern the Course to Be Followed.

There is a combined effort on foot among the liverymen, teamsters and many other owners of vehicles to test the legality of the new vehicle ordinance. Many protests are made against paying the tax, and the legality of the measure is questioned. A meeting was held last night by the vehicle people to determine upon a plan of procedure, and the advisability of seeking legal advice as to the best course to pursue was discussed. It was decided to engage counsel for guidance and a committee was appointed to wait upon Jason H. Brookes and retain his services. Mr. Brookes will look up the law dealing with this question and give his opinion.

The vehicle owners will be governed by the attorney's interpretation of the statutes, and if he deems the action of council, in drawing up a measure of this character, illegal, they will refuse to pay the tax imposed on their vehicles.

On April 12, 1893, the state legislature passed a special act, expressly for the city of East Liverpool, empowering the city council to pass an ordinance compelling the owners of vehicles to pay a tax on their conveyances. Under the general laws a statute provides for the taxation of vehicles in cities of the first class, first grade, and having some doubt that this law would not apply to cities of lesser classes and grades, it was deemed proper to have a special law enacted to cover these lesser cities. Hence the special legislation for this city.

In the year 1887 the supreme court decided, in deliberating upon a protest from Cincinnati vehicle owners, that the taxation of vehicles was constitutional. The question suggests itself, that this is a late period to file a protest. Before the ordinance became a law a chance was given all who opposed the measure to come forward and state their objections, but only two owners of vehicles were in attendance at the hearing, therefore the committee in charge were governed to a certain extent by the suggestions offered by these two, and evidently, at that time very little interest seemed apparent as to what the new measure contained.

The mayor has granted two days grace to vehicle owners in which to pay their license.

THE COMBINE.

The Central Sewerpipe Association is Not a Thing of the Past.

A special to the Wheeling News from Steubenville says all the sewerpipe firms at Toronto, with two exceptions, have withdrawn from the Central Sewerpipe association, which means the dissolution of the trust.

The Toronto Tribune, which should be authority on the matter, says that seven firms in the district dropped out, but there are still 21 firms in the combine, and will continue to do business. The retirement of the Toronto firms will make a great hole in the association, but the Central still lives and "we shall see what we see."

According to the Pittsburgh Times, Thomas F. Anderson, general manager of the combine, said the withdrawal of the seven firms would not affect the organization, as there were 100 firms outside the organization before. He also stated that the prices would not be affected by the desertion.

A SURPRISE

Accorded Mrs. Rev. Huffer at Her Home Last Night.

A party of members from the Church of Christ called at the residence of Rev. C. W. Huffer last night, it being the 35th birthday of his estimable wife. An enjoyable time was had by all present, and many handsome presents were given to the lady. The party was unexpected, and proved a genuine surprise, as Mrs. Huffer was away from home in the evening, and came back to find her parlor filled by a happy throng. She was equal to the emergency, however, and a palatable lunch was served, which was done justice. The evening was spent in social enjoyments and the merry-making kept up until a late hour.

Husbands to Burn.

FROM OUR EXCHANGES.

More Kind Words For America's Next President.

Mr. McKinley's progress is not secured by deprecating the character and worth of any other candidates. His followers respect every one of them who has entered the field with sincerity. He is going on from conquering to conquer because he represents the purpose of the vast majority of the people.—Pittsburg News.

Senator Sherman has written a letter endorsing McKinley's financial views. It was entirely unnecessary. The people approve the stand of the Ohio candidate on the great issue, as is attested by the flocking of delegates to his standard.—Ohio State Journal.

The sentiment of the masses is known to be in favor of the Ohio candidate. That much is conceded by everybody, and it is unfair and unjust to argue that it is good politics to stifle the voice of the people under such circumstances.—Lafayette Courier.

Major McKinley has the delegates. His band wagon has over the necessary complement already on board. The music of the victorious strains for protection, reciprocity, McKinley and victory have struck up. For those who hurry there is still room, but hurry up or you will be left! None so blind as they who will not see.—Pittsburg Press.

COMPANY E

Met For Drill Last Night at the Armory, And Were Inspected.

Company E met at the armory last night, intending to drill on lower Second street, but the inclement weather compelled the boys to remain at the hall. The chairs and tables were piled up in a corner of the room and the company lined up for inspection, which was the most rigid the boys have ever experienced. Soldiers who thought their accoutrements perfect were shown spots of rust by Captain Hill that only an eagle eye could observe. The inspection was thorough, and lasted for quite a while. The manual of arms and facings were then gone through and the boys were dismissed. The company is ordered to appear for drill on Monday night at 7 o'clock, and delinquents, without a satisfactory excuse—sickness, death or work—will be punished. The penalty for non-attendance is a fine and imprisonment until paid, while the crime of dissuading a member is a penitentiary offense.

A NATURAL MISTAKE.

Intentings of Calves Mistaken For the Dissonant Notes of a Horn.

It has come to light that the fellow with the brass horn who lives on Jackson square has been the victim of much adverse and unjust criticism by the neighbors. Subsequent developments serve to show that the unearthly nocturnal diversions accredited to him and his instrument of torture in reality were produced by two young calves penned up in an enclosure adjoining the home of the supposed musician, whose incessant bleatings with persistent regularity was painfully evident during the long hours of the night. The bellowing of the calves and the strains that proceed from a bass horn are almost identical, hence the mistake is natural. An apology is certainly due the man with the horn.

MISCHIEVOUS YOUTHS

Tear Up Shade Trees in Front of an East End Residence.

A lad named Daniel Stevenson, of the East End, was arrested by Officer Meador last night and lodged behind the bars, with a charge of malicious conduct against him. The lad, in company with another playmate, who has not been caught yet, tore up a number of small trees that Aaron McDonald recently planted in front of his residence, and for these actions a complaint was filed against the youngsters.

This afternoon Officer Meador succeeded in capturing the other lad, Roy Pinkerton, and placed him behind the bars. The mayor will probably send him to the probate judge on Monday for sentence to Lancaster reform school.

Entered Suit.

The Ceramic City Light company entered suit last evening before Justice Rose against Mrs. P. McKeever, Blisinger & Leek, Jethro Manley, Jr., and Casper Gelsz, for unpaid light bills. The cases will be heard at city hall on the 4 of May at 1 p. m.

THE NEW YORK TRADE

A Noticeable Improvement in China and Glass.

IMPORTING SEASON AT AN END

Dress Goods and Feminine Adornments Are Occupying the Attention of the Department Retailers—What is Being Done in Crockery Circles.

A distinct improvement in trade circles in New York has been occasioned by the greater consumption of merchandise that has set in with the more seasonable weather.

The attention of the housewife at this time of the year is naturally given to summer raiment for herself and family, and she pays little attention to the needs of her house. The store windows are filled with dress goods and articles of feminine adornment, while crockery is carried in the shelves for the present. A few firms have filled their windows with a handsome and attractive display of china, glass and bric-a-brac.

Few buyers have been in New York of late, and the importing season has practically closed. The opinion is that the orders have been well up to the mark. Trade on the road is fair in the west although the travelers send in excuses and apologies more frequent than orders. Some dealers report numerous mail orders, which, while none of them are large, aggregate a good average.

One of the oldest and experienced buyers of a large importing house is on his way from Europe, and is bringing with him a large quantity of fancy crockery and glass.

There is no general complaint about poor trade, while internal and external evidences of improvement can be seen at all the jobbing houses.

Advices from Pennsylvania and Tennessee show that potteries which have been idle for months past, have resumed. American potters since the institution of the Wilson-Gorman tariff bill have been holding on to such remnant of trade as could not be taken from them, and have been making a hard struggle in the hope that the pinch of poverty would finally flood the folly of free trade with light and proof, and round about their erring countrymen. It is believed the darkest hours of American industries are about over.

Remembered For Good Service.

Captain Clint Morley and James McCallough, of the fire station, were each the recipients of a handsomely decorated dinner set yesterday. The donor of the gifts is the Standard pottery, which took this way of showing their appreciation of the effective work done when the pottery was on fire. Jim and Captain Clint admire their presents highly and are profuse in their thanks to the firm.

A Denial.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW—In the Crisis of last evening some person accused me of inhuman cruelty to one of my boys. I want you to publish a distinct denial of the paragraph. I have at least three independent witnesses to prove that I only very mildly chastised my boy for a flagrant act of disobedience.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., THURSDAY, MAY 1.

For President,
WILLIAM McKINLEY,
Of Ohio.

PERSONAL SPLEEN.

The gratification of petty spleen or malice is a sure indication of a weak or badly balanced mind. In other words, the man or men who are controlled by such motives have more wheels in their heads than there are bicycles in East Liverpool.

DO THE RIGHT.

Stand by the right, boldly and fearlessly. No man or body of men can conquer or defeat you when you build upon this platform. All efforts to defeat the right will rebound and inflict injury upon those in the wrong. God has so ordained, and the efforts of RYUN men will avail nothing against His mandate.

WE COMMEND HIM.

The NEWS REVIEW warmly commends the official who last night gave a number of loafers a hot reprimand for blockading the pavement and using profane language, and he gave the reproof in such a manner as convinced the blackguards that he meant business. The miserable poltroons deserve punishment, and they will surely be entangled in the legal net if they continue their unmanly work. Turn on the legal hose and wash them out.

IT IS MCKINLEY.

The news from Illinois has sent McKinley stock away up, and even his hottest opponents are losing courage and are ready to acknowledge that it seems an impossibility to defeat the man whom the great masses delight to honor. Senator Cullom yielded to the inevitable in a manly way, and spoke warm words of approval for McKinley, as the choice of the people, and as the representative of home and home industries and interests. The tone of the Pennsylvania papers of this morning is very much modified, and they seem to think that M. S. Quay has not an absolutely sure thing upon the Republican nomination. The truth of the matter is that the great mass of the people of the grand old Keystone state are in favor of McKinley, and the only reason that Quay has been receiving such laudation, is a matter of state pride over their own candidate. Little Vermont has astonished the nation, and her action has been of great benefit to McKinley. Michigan rings out her choice in a manner which leaves no doubt of her intentions. Coming to the Democracy, the irrepressible Tom Johnson predicts McKinley's nomination and election, and his defeat, after four years sojourn in the White house. All right, Thomas; we will gladly accept the four years, and take the chances of defeat, after that time, with four years of prosperity to the workmen of the nation backing up the great apostle of protection. The very strong indications are that McKinley will be the nominee, and, Providence permitting, will succeed himself.

THE MCKINLEY CLUB.

Some time since, the McKinley club of East Liverpool warmly endorsed the NEWS REVIEW for its staunch adherence to Republican principles, and for general good work. Last night, as per an article in the Pittsburgh Times of this morning, the club rescinded that action, on account, as the Times' correspondent of this place states, "the course of the paper in opposing a part of the Republican ticket at the last election." For the enlightenment of the public at large, and particularly for the benefit of good men and true women of East Liverpool, we devote some space to an explanation of this matter, and the cause of the rescinding of the resolution so warmly favoring the NEWS REVIEW. The cause of the rescinding, in a nutshell, was the action of this paper in opposing the "No Bible" candidates at the late election for members of the school board. The manager of this paper is responsible for that action, is proud of the same, and would do the same again, under the same circumstances and surroundings, as he considers the Bible the word of God, and holds obedience to God as above and beyond all other obligations or commands. The Republicans who expressed themselves in favor of the Bible, first, last, and all the time, received the staunch support of the NEWS REVIEW, a staunch Republican paper, whose manager cast his first vote for Abraham Lincoln, and who has been a thorough Republican all of his manhood days, up to the present date; who loves the Republican party because it is the best in existence for the great masses, and, if true to principle and right, will bring, under Providence, still greater blessings to this great nation. A few weeks since, at a meeting of the McKinley club, a gentlemanly member made a motion that Captain Palmer be requested to explain his reasons for leaving out the "X" opposite the names of Will L. Smith, John N. Taylor and Mrs. Calhoun. This motion was seconded, and Manager Palmer gave as his explanation, that he was opposed to the "No Bible" candidates, Will L. Smith, John N. Taylor and Mrs. Calhoun, on a question of fixed principle--his duty to God and God's word. The explanation was evidently satisfactory, as per arguments and speeches made by numerous members present. A LIGHT WEIGHT member had, in the early part of the meeting, DEMANDED that Manager Palmer make an explanation; but as the manager treated his demand with the contempt it deserved, and so expressed himself, the badly balanced fellow hotly moved that Mr. Palmer be expelled; but, as he could get no second to his motion, he ineffectually subsided. Finally another light weight, seconded by Mr. Nellis, who was defeated for the nomination for school board, moved the action commending the NEWS REVIEW be rescinded; this was tabled by a large majority, only the light weight above designated voting for it. A week later, when Manager Palmer was absent from the city, the motion to rescind was again brought up; but a well-known attorney of the city brought hot shot to bear upon the movement, and again it was defeated. Last night, the light weight was in the chair, and left the same to make his pet motion against the NEWS REVIEW, and it carried. Note the illegality of the action. The matter had been twice voted down, at previous meetings, and the man who last night made the motion, and the second thereto, having voted to rescind, had no parliamentary right to bring the matter before the club. A motion to reconsider the action of last night, on a point of order, could be made and carried at next week's meeting of the club; but it never will be, with the consent of the manager of this paper. The action of last night was acted upon and carried by a mere corporal's guard; was the result of personal malice, petty spite and absolute cowardice, and if the manly men and representative members of the McKinley club will allow such creatures to use them as a catspaw--so mote it be. Finally, the manager of the NEWS REVIEW is proud--with an honest pride--of the course he pursued against the "No Bible" candidates, and he tells them that they are not representative Republicans, and never again can be, as they have sowed the wind and will reap the whirlwind. They did not depend upon Republicans to elect them in the late contest in the Third ward, but did depend upon an element which is and ever has been absolutely opposed to Republicanism and Republican principles. The manager of the NEWS REVIEW is a true Republican, having the courage of his convictions on a matter of right and duty, and no man or body of men can drive him from this standpoint, and, thank God, he has a host of true friends backing him in this battle of the Right against the Wrong. Turn on the light.

SAID HE HAD NO PROOF.

Allen Tells What He Heard About Ex-Secretary Charles Foster.

WASHINGTON, May 1.--Mr. Allen (Pop., Neb.) has made a speech of three hours in the senate arraigning the two old political parties. In criticizing the bond issuing policy of the old parties, Mr. Allen said that shortly before the Harrison administration closed Secretary of the Treasury Foster called together a party of New York bankers with a view to forming a syndicate, and there was some talk, added the senator, as to the profit which would have come to Mr. Foster by a bond transaction.

Mr. Platt (Rep., Conn.) immediately interrupted to say that if the Nebraska senator made any such statement he ought to give his authority.

Mr. Allen answered that he made no charge; he mentioned incidentally, having read somewhere to the effect that Mr. Foster would profit to the extent of $2,500,000.

Mr. Allison also insisted that no such statement should be made without producing any authority, and Mr. Allen repeated that he made no charges, merely repeating what he had read.

SOLDIERS ON GUARD

To Prevent More Incendiarism
at Cripple Creek, Colo.

OTHER TOWNS ARE IN DANGER.

Two Men Caught Firing a Saloon at Poverty Gulch--Victor Guarded to Prevent Firebugs From Getting In Their Work--Three Thousand Homeless.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., May 1.--At least 3,000 people are homeless and shivering about the campfires in the ruins of this city.

Ben Brewer, who is president and manager of the Portland hotel company, indignantly repudiates the insinuation of T. J. Moynahan, owner of the hotel, that the fire was of incendiary origin. Mr. Brewer says the furniture cost $5,500 and was insured for only $5,000.

A company of the Colorado national guard is on duty in the unburned district to guard against incendiaries. Numerous arrests have been made in the outside district, resort to which has been made by the vagrant element which has lately infested Cripple Creek. All night fires were starting occasionally on the place. Where possible the residents pulled the houses down, and if that failed, blew them up. They had no water in that portion of the city.

A rumor is in circulation that a man was seen in the act of setting fire to a dwelling on Capitol Hill and was shot by a resident, just as a firebug was shot and killed by Floyd Thompson.

Mayor Doyle of Victor has employed two fire wardens for every business block in that city, as it has been rumored that firebugs are after that town, as well as Cripple Creek. A man was caught in the very act of firing the rear of the Newell Hardware company's store. He is in jail.

The total loss by the fire is estimated at $1,500,000. The insurance will probably foot up between $400,000 and $600,000.

Two men were caught building a fire under a saloon in Poverty Gulch. An officer fired four shot at them and they were captured. In their possession was a bunch of skeleton keys.

A Cripple Creek Loser Suicides.

DENVER, May 1.--Robert Campbell, aged 40, has committed suicide while dependent on account of having lost practically all his possessions in mining stock speculation in the fire at Cripple Creek. The widow attempted to shoot herself after discovering the act of her husband.

RHODES IN THE PLOT.

The Transvaal Has Evidence Which Incriminates Him and Others.

LONDON, May 1.--It would be difficult to overestimate the sensation which has been caused in England by the publication of the substance of the telegrams and documents which have come into the possession of the authorities of the Transvaal republic, through the trial just ended, in which Hammond, the American engineer, and others pleaded guilty of high treason. The Times, in an editorial on the subject says:

"It is impossible to ignore the gravity of the conclusion to which the published telegrams point. They establish beyond the possibility of a doubt that Hon. Cecil Rhodes, the then premier of Cape Colony, Mr. Alfred Beit, a director in the British South Africa company, and Mr. Rutherford Harris, secretary of the British South Africa company, were privy to the movement against Johannesburg, and that the leaders of the movement counted upon their help and countenance to insure its success. The telegrams must be taken to prove that Mr. Rhodes approved the revolution which was desired in Johannesburg, but nothing in the correspondence goes to show that the actual crossing of the frontier by Dr. Jameson under the circumstances under which it eventually occurred was known to Mr. Rhodes or carried out with his approval. The reasons which actuated Dr. Jameson in crossing the frontier when he did remain shrouded in mystery."

MUST ESTABLISH CONTEMPT.

Senator Hill Reports a Bill Covering Cases Like Debs'.

WASHINGTON, May 1.--Senator Hill from the committee on judiciary has submitted a report upon the bill in relation to contempt of United States courts, the senator presenting a new bill as the result of the committee's deliberations. The bill defines direct contempt to be those committed during a sitting of the court or a judge in chambers, or his presence; all other contempts are indirect.

It provides for the immediate and summary punishment of direct contempt without written accusation. Especial interest in the bill centers in the provision for the punishment of contempt of court committed not in the court's presence, as in the Debs case. This gives the accused right of trial before contempt can be established.

Captain Lothaire Acquitted.

JACKSON ON THE STAND.

Trys to Place the Weight of the Murder on Walling.

NEWPORT, Ky., May 1.--Scott Jackson has given his testimony in connection with Pearl Bryan's murder. Jackson stated that he did not know Pearl Bryan was in Cincinnati till Tuesday, Jan. 29, when he received a note from her at the Dental college inviting him to visit her.

All the testimony of the witnesses, Mrs. Weeks, the Spiritualist, Mr. Pinkard, who saw him and Walling with Pearl Bryan on College street the day before the murder, and of Fortmeyer, who saw him in Kentucky with the girl shortly before the murder, he emphatically branded as untrue.

He admits taking Pearl Bryan to Wallingford's saloon, in the tenderloin district, but says it was on Tuesday night, Jan. 28, instead of Friday, Jan. 31, the night before the murder, as testified by Wallingford. He said Walling agreed to relieve the girl secretly, and when all was over and she was fit to be returned home, would turn her over to the witness. He says he took her valise, the one afterward found stained inside with blood, carried it to his room on Tuesday afternoon, tried to return it on Wednesday, but could not find Walling, to whom he intended to give it.

He said that on Saturday night of the day the body was found he and Walling dropped some clothing into the river, which Walling, without further explanation, told him was unsafe to keep in their room. When he made inquiry about the matter Walling told him to ask no questions. His explanation of his shifting that valise around was very awkward. When called upon to explain why he participated in hiding Pearl Bryan's clothing, he said he was actuated by fear that the part he had taken to bring her here to save Will Wood might implicate him. He admitted illicit relations with the girl.

DISSENSION AMONG NATIVES.

Bulawayo Practically Safe Again--Earl Grey Arrives There.

BULAWAYO, South Africa, May 1.--Earl Grey, co-administrator, with Mr. Cecil Rhodes of the territory of the British Charters South Africa company, has arrived here with a strong escort.

The recent actions with the insurgent Matabele have resulted in inflicting such severe loss upon them that Bulawayo is looked upon as being practically relieved, and it is no longer likely that the natives will attack the town in force, although they still number over 15,000 armed men in this vicinity.

A Matabele deserter states that acute dissension prevails among the Matabeles, and that the west of the tribe threatens to wipe out the Sekuti, Imbezu and Ingobo regiments. In addition, the Imbezu are threatening their "God" for not having fulfilled his promise to turn the bullets of the whites into water.

EIGHT-HOUR DAY DEMANDED.

Carpenters Begin the Struggle Today For the Federation.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 1.--The American Federation of Labor demanded eight hours today. The carpenters began the movement throughout the country.

President Gompers says that arbitration will be tried, but if not successful other means will be used. The whole federation may be drawn into the eight-hour struggle, said Mr. Gompers, before the question is settled. Mr. Gompers was asked if the American Railway union would render the federation its assistance, and replied that he doubted that order's ability to give any aid in its present condition.

CLEANED BY MCKINLEY.

Not a Crumb For Cullom on the Illinois Platter.

DEFEAT ACCEPTED GRACEFULLY.

The Aged Senator Issues a Statement
Pledging His Hearty Support to the
Gallant and Intrepid Ohio Major--The Convention For Sound Money.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., May 1.--William McKinley, Jr., of Ohio is the choice of the Republicans of Illinois for president of the United States. He was so declared at the state convention here. Arrayed on the side of Senator Cullom was that organization known as the Cook county machine and a large number of the leading politicians and statesmen of Illinois. They had to aid them one of the most perfect political organizations that has ever been formed in this state, but all their plans went wrong.

The first shot was fired by Cullom's men in the shape of a resolution instructing the national delegates-at-large from this state to support him at the convention. As soon as Cullom's name was mentioned there was enthusiastic cheering from his friends and followers. But when the amendment substituting the name of McKinley for that of Senator Cullom was offered the outburst of applause was simply tremendous. From this time Senator Cullom's friends gave up hope. They saw nothing could stop the determination of the delegates to name Major McKinley as the choice for president.

Senator Cullom gave out the following statement tonight regarding the result of the convention:

The Republicans of Illinois in their state convention have shown that they want the delegates-at-large to support Major McKinley for president. That action is binding and conclusive. It is not to be construed as unfriendly to any of the other candidates, but as an expression of their preference. Every Republican in Illinois will accept it. Personally, I have no fault to find. I came out to the convention as I have been in the habit of doing for years past, particularly when held in my own home. That some of my friends gave the preference to Major Mckinley was perhaps natural, as he has been in the minds of the people as a candidate for the last two or three years.

Two months ago, when the conditions seemed such that my friends believed would be advantageous to Illinois to have my name presented as a candidate at St. Louis, I left the matter in their hands. My public duties have kept me constant in Washington and I have made no canvass. The preference which the Republicans of the state have shown will be fully carried out in the national convention. If Major McKinley should be nominated it will be because of the popular belief that he most thoroughly typifies those cardinal principles of the Republican party which are embodied in our platform.

R. W. Patterson, editor Chicago Tribune, William Penn Nixon, editor Interocean, ex-Governor E. J. Oglesby, Elkhart and ex-Governor Joseph V. Pifer were selected as delegates-at-large to the national convention.

The platform declares firmly for sound money.

A motion was made to express confidence in Allison and Reed in the resolutions, but it failed.

Expressed Preference For McKinley.

BURLINGTON, Vt., May 1.--The Republican convention in the First Vermont congressional district has named delegates to the St. Louis convention. Resolutions were adopted expressing preference for McKinley.

Bankruptcy Bill Likely to Pass.

WASHINGTON, May 1.--The general debate on the bankruptcy bill was continued and concluded in the house. The final vote will be taken at 4 o'clock on Saturday. The friends of the measure are very sanguine that it will pass by a safe majority. The surprise of the day was the announcement of Mr. Culberson (Tex.), ex-chairman of the judiciary committee, who has always heretofore fought every bankruptcy bill containing an involuntary system, that he would vote for the pending measure.

Rev. C. O. Brown Resigns.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., THURSDAY, MAY 1

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
of Ohio.

PERSONAL SPLEEN.

The gratification of petty spleen or malice is a sure indication of a weak or badly balanced mind. In other words, the man or men who are controlled by such motives have more wheels in their heads than there are bicycles in East Liverpool.

DO THE RIGHT.

Stand by the right, boldly and fearlessly. No man or body of men can conquer or defeat you when you build upon this platform. All efforts to defeat the right will rebound and inflict injury upon those in the wrong. God has so ordained, and the efforts of PUNY men will avail nothing against His mandate.

WE COMMEND HIM.

The News Review warmly commends the official who last night gave a number of loafers a hot reprimand for blockading the pavement and using profane language, and he gave the reproof in such a manner as convinced the blackguards that he meant business. The miserable poltroons deserve punishment, and they will surely be entangled in the legal net if they continue their unmanly work. Turn on the legal hose and wash them out.

IT IS MCKINLEY.

The news from Illinois has sent McKinley stock away up, and even his hottest opponents are losing courage and are ready to acknowledge that it seems an impossibility to defeat the man whom the great masses delight to honor. Senator Cullom yielded to the inevitable in a manly way, and spoke warm words of approval for McKinley, as the choice of the people, and as the representative of home and home industries and interests. The tone of the Pennsylvania papers of this morning is very much modified, and they seem to think that M. S. Quay has not an absolutely sure thing upon the Republican nomination. The truth of the matter is that the great mass of the people of the grand old Keystone state are in favor of McKinley, and the only reason that Quay has been receiving such laudation is a matter of state pride over their own candidate. Little Vermont has astonished the nation, and her action has been of great benefit to McKinley. Michigan rings out her choice in a manner which leaves no doubt of her intentions. Coming to the Democracy, the irrepressible Tom Johnson predicts McKinley's nomination and election, and his defeat, after four years sojourn in the White house. All right, Thomas; we will gladly accept the four years, and take the chances of defeat, after that time, with four years of prosperity to the workingmen of the nation backing up the great apostle of protection. The very strong indications are that McKinley will be the nominee, and, Providence permitting, will succeed himself.

THE MCKINLEY CLUB.

Some time since, the McKinley club of East Liverpool warmly endorsed the News Review for its staunch adherence to Republican principles, and for general good work. Last night, as per an article in the Pittsburg Times of this morning, the club rescinded that action, on account, as the Times' correspondent of this place states, "the course of the paper in opposing a part of the Republican ticket at the late election." For the enlightenment of the public at large, and particularly for the benefit of good men and true women of East Liverpool, we devote some space to an explanation of this matter, and the cause of the rescinding of the resolution so warmly favoring the News Review. The cause of the rescinding, in a nutshell, was the action of this paper in opposing the "No Bible" candidates at the late election for members of the school board. The manager of this paper is responsible for that action, is proud of the same, and would do the same again, under the same circumstances and surroundings, as he considers the Bible the word of God, and holds obedience to God as above and beyond all other obligations or commands. The Republicans who expressed themselves in favor of the Bible, first, last, and all the time, received the staunch support of the News Review, a staunch Republican paper, whose manager cast his first vote for Abraham Lincoln, and who has been a thorough Republican all of his manhood days, up to the present date; who loves the Republican party because it is the best in existence for the great masses, and, if true to principle and right, will bring, under Providence, still greater blessings to this great nation. A few weeks since, at a meeting of the McKinley club, a gentlemanly member made a motion that Captain Palmer be requested to explain his reasons for leaving out the "X" opposite the names of Will L. Smith, John N. Taylor and Mrs. Calhoun. This motion was seconded, and Manager Palmer gave as his explanation, that he was opposed to the "No Bible" candidates, Will L. Smith, John N. Taylor and Mrs. Calhoun, on a question of fixed principle--his duty to God and God's word. The explanation was evidently satisfactory, as per arguments and speeches made by numerous members present. A LIGHT WEIGHT member had, in the early part of the meeting, DEMANDED that Manager Palmer make an explanation; but as the manager treated his demand with the contempt it deserved, and so expressed himself, the badly balanced fellow hotly moved that Mr. Palmer be expelled; but, as he could get no second to his motion, he incontinently subsided. Finally another light weight, seconded by Mr. Nellis, who was defeated for the nomination for school board, moved the action commending the News Review be rescinded; this was tabled by a large majority, only the light weight above designated voting for it. A week later, when Manager Palmer was absent from the city, the motion to rescind was again brought up; but a well-known attorney of the city brought hot shot to bear upon the movement, and again it was defeated. Last night, the light weight was in the chair, and left the same to make his pet motion against the News Review, and it carried. Note the illegality of the action. The matter had been twice voted down, at previous meetings, and the man who last night made the motion, and the second thereto, having voted to rescind, had no parliamentary right to bring the matter before the club. A motion to reconsider the action of last night, on a point of order, could be made and carried at next week's meeting of the club; but it never will be, with the consent of the manager of this paper. The action of last night was acted upon and carried by a mere corporal's guard; was the result of personal malice, petty spite and absolute cowardice, and if the manly men and representative members of the McKinley club will allow such creatures to use them as a catspaw--so mote it be. Finally, the manager of the News Review is proud--with an honest pride--of the course he pursued against the "No Bible" candidates, and he tells them that they are not representative Republicans, and never again can be, as they have sowed the wind and will reap the whirlwind. They did not depend upon Republicans to elect them in the late contest in the Third ward, but did depend upon an element which is and ever has been absolutely opposed to Republicanism and Republican principles. The manager of the News Review is a true Republican, having the courage of his convictions on a matter of right and duty, and no man or body of men can drive him from this standpoint, and, thank God, he has a host of true friends backing him in this battle of the Right against the Wrong. Turn on the light.

SAID HE HAD NO PROOF.

Allen Tells What He Heard About Ex-Secretary Charles Foster.

WASHINGTON, May 1.--Mr. Allen (Pop., Neb.) has made a speech of three hours in the senate arraigning the two old political parties. In criticizing the bond issuing policy of the old parties, Mr. Allen said that shortly before the Harrison administration closed Secretary of the Treasury Foster called together a party of New York bankers with a view to forming a syndicate, and there was some talk, added the senator, as to the profit which would have come to Mr. Foster by a bond transaction.

Mr. Platt (Rep., Conn.) immediately interrupted to say that if the Nebraska senator made any such statement he ought to give his authority.

Mr. Allen answered that he made no charge; he mentioned incidentally, having read somewhere to the effect that Mr. Foster would profit to the extent of $2,500,000.

Mr. Allison also insisted that no such statement should be made without producing any authority, and Mr. Allen repeated that he made no charges, merely repeating what he had read.

SOLDIERS ON GUARD

To Prevent More Incendiarism
at Cripple Creek, Colo.

OTHER TOWNS ARE IN DANGER.

Two Men Caught Firing a Saloon at Poverty Gulch--Victor Guarded to Prevent Firebugs From Getting In Their Work--Three Thousand Homeless.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., May 1.--At least 3,000 people are homeless and shivering about the campfires in the ruins of this city.

Ben Brewer, who is president and manager of the Portland hotel company, indignantly repudiates the insinuation of T. J. Moynahan, owner of the hotel, that the fire was of incendiary origin. Mr. Brewer says the furniture cost $6,500 and was insured for only $5,000.

A company of the Colorado national guard is on duty in the unburned district to guard against incendiaries. Numerous arrests have been made in the outside district, resort to which has been made by the vagrant element which has lately infested Cripple Creek. All night fires were starting occasionally on the place. Where possible the residents pulled the houses down, and if that failed, blew them up. They had no water in that portion of the city.

A rumor is in circulation that a man was seen in the act of setting fire to a dwelling on Capitol Hill and was shot by a resident, just as a firebug was shot and killed by Floyd Thompson.

Mayor Doyle of Victor has employed two fire wardens for every business block in that city, as it has been rumored that firebugs are after that town, as well as Cripple Creek. A man was caught in the very act of firing the rear of the Newell Hardware company's store. He is in jail.

The total loss by the fire is estimated at $1,500,000. The insurance will probably foot up between $400,000 and $600,000.

Two men were caught building a fire under a saloon in Poverty Gulch. An officer fired four shot at them and they were captured. In their possession was a bunch of skeleton keys.

A Cripple Creek Loser Suicides.

DENVER, May 1.--Robert Campbell, aged 40, has committed suicide while despondent on account of having lost practically all his possessions in mining stock speculation in the fire at Cripple Creek. The widow attempted to shoot herself after discovering the act of her husband.

RHODES IN THE PLOT.

The Transvaal Has Evidence Which Incriminates Him and Others.

LONDON, May 1.--It would be difficult to overestimate the sensation which has been caused in England by the publication of the substance of the telegrams and documents which have come into the possession of the authorities of the Transvaal republic, through the trial just ended, in which Hammond, the American engineer, and others pleaded guilty of high treason. The Times, in an editorial on the subject says:

"It is impossible to ignore the gravity of the conclusion to which the published telegrams point. They establish beyond the possibility of a doubt that Hon. Cecil Rhodes, the then premier of Cape Colony, Mr. Alfred Beit, a director in the British South Africa company, and Mr. Rutherford Harris, secretary of the British South Africa company, were privy to the movement against Johannesburg, and that the leaders of the movement counted upon their help and countenance to insure its success."

"The telegrams must be taken to prove that Mr. Rhodes approved the revolution which was desired in Johannesburg, but nothing in the correspondence goes to show that the actual crossing of the frontier by Dr. Jameson under the circumstances under which it eventually occurred was known to Mr. Rhodes or carried out with his approval."

"The reasons which actuated Dr. Jameson in crossing the frontier when he did remain shrouded in mystery."

MUST ESTABLISH CONTEMPT.

Senator Hill Reports a Bill Covering Cases Like Debs'.

WASHINGTON, May 1.--Senator Hill from the committee on judiciary has submitted a report upon the bill in relation to contempts of United States courts, the senator presenting a new bill as the result of the committee's deliberations. The bill defines direct contempt to be those committed during a sitting of the court or a judge in chambers, or his presence; all other contempts are indirect.

It provides for the immediate and summary punishment of direct contempt without written accusation. Especial interest in the bill centers in the provision for the punishment of contempt of court committed not in the court's presence, as in the Debs case. This gives the accused right of trial before contempt can be established.

Captain Lothaire Acquitted.

BRUSSELS, May 1.--Captain Lothaire, the Belgian officer who has been on trial for the alleged illegal hanging in the Congo Free State of Stocks, the wealthy English trader, who is said to have sold arms and ammunition to the natives, has been acquitted.

Naval Militia Meeting.

BALTIMORE, May 1.--The second annual meeting of the Association of Naval Militia of the United States is being held on the training ship Dale in this city. Assistant Secretary of the Navy McAdo delivered an address.

Mrs. Booth-Tucker Very Ill.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1.--Mrs. Booth-Tucker, the consul of the Salvation Army in America, is very ill and it is doubtful whether she will be able to keep her engagements in California and Oregon.

U. S. Minister Willis Ill.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1.--Alfred Willis, United States minister to Hawaii, is seriously ill. After his arrival from Honolulu a week ago, he was too poorly to continue on his journey without a rest.

JACKSON ON THE STAND.

Tries to Place the Weight of the Murder on Walling.

NEWPORT, Ky., May 1.--Scott Jackson has given his testimony in connection with Pearl Bryan's murder. Jackson stated that he did not know Pearl Bryan was in Cincinnati till Tuesday, Jan. 28, when he received a note from her at the Dental college inviting him to visit her.

All the testimony of the witnesses, Mrs. Weeks, the Spiritualist, Mr. Pinkard, who saw him and Walling with Pearl Bryan on College street the day before the murder, and of Fortmeyer, who saw him in Kentucky with the girl shortly before the murder, he emphatically branded as untrue.

He admits taking Pearl Bryan to Wallingford's saloon, in the tenderloin district, but says it was on Tuesday night, Jan. 28, instead of Friday, Jan. 31, the night before the murder, as testified by Wallingford. He said Walling agreed to relieve the girl secretly, and when all was over and she was fit to be returned home, would turn her over to the witness. He says he took her valise, the one afterward found stained inside with blood, carried it to his room on Tuesday afternoon, tried to return it on Wednesday, but could not find Walling, to whom he intended to give it.

He said that on Saturday night of the day the body was found he and Walling dropped some clothing into the river, which Walling, without further explanation, told him was unsafe to keep in their room. When he made inquiry about the matter Walling told him to ask no questions. His explanation of his shifting that valise around was very awkward. When called upon to explain why he participated in hiding Pearl Bryan's clothing, he said he was actuated by fear that the part he had taken to bring her here to save Will Wood might implicate him. He admitted illicit relations with the girl.

DISSENSION AMONG NATIVES.

Buluwayo Practically Safe Again--Earl Grey Arrives There.

BULUWAYO, South Africa, May 1.--Earl Grey, co-administrator, with Mr. Cecil Rhodes of the territory of the British Chartered South Africa company, has arrived here with a strong escort.

The recent actions with the insurgent Matabeles have resulted in inflicting such severe loss upon them that Buluwayo is looked upon as being practically relieved, and it is no longer likely that the natives will attack the town in force, although they still number over 15,000 armed men in this vicinity.

A Matabele deserter states that acute dissension prevails among the Matabeles, and that the west of the tribe threatens to wipe out the Sekuti, Imbezi and Ingobo regiments. In addition, the Imbezis are threatening their "God" for not having fulfilled his promise to turn the bullets of the whites into water.

EIGHT-HOUR DAY DEMANDED.

Carpenters Begin the Struggle Today For the Federation.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 1.--The American Federation of Labor demanded eight hours today. The carpenters began the movement throughout the country.

President Gompers says that arbitration will be tried, but if not successful other means will be used. The whole federation may be drawn into the eight-hour struggle, said Mr. Gompers, before the question is settled. Mr. Gompers was asked if the American Railway union would render the federation its assistance, and replied that he doubted that order's ability to give any aid in its present condition.

CLEANED BY MCKINLEY.

Not a Crumb For Cullom on the Illinois Platter.

DEFEAT ACCEPTED GRACEFULLY.

The Aged Senator Issues a Statement
Pledging His Hearty Support to the
Gallant and Intrepid Ohio Major--The Convention For Sound Money.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 1.--William McKinley, Jr., of Ohio is the choice of the Republicans of Illinois for president of the United States. He was so declared at the state convention here. Arrayed on the side of Senator Cullom was that organization known as the Cook county machine and a large number of the leading politicians and statesmen of Illinois. They had to aid them one of the most perfect political organizations that has ever been formed in this state, but all their plans went wrong.

The first shot was fired by Cullom's men in the shape of a resolution instructing the national delegates-at-large from this state to support him at the convention. As soon as Cullom's name was mentioned there was enthusiastic cheering from his friends and followers. But when the amendment substituting the name of McKinley for that of Senator Cullom was offered the outburst of applause was simply tremendous. From this time Senator Cullom's friends gave up hope. They saw nothing could stop the determination of the delegates to name Major McKinley as the choice for president.

Senator Cullom gave out the following statement tonight regarding the result of the convention:

The Republicans of Illinois in their state convention have shown that they want the delegates-at-large to support Major McKinley for president. That action is binding and conclusive. It is not to be construed as unfriendly to any of the other candidates, but as an expression of their preference. Every Republican in Illinois will accept it. Personally, I have no fault to find. I came out to the convention as I have been in the habit of doing for years past, particularly when held in my own home. That some of my friends have the preference for Major Mc-

Kinley was perhaps natural, as he has been in the minds of the people as a candidate for the last two or three years.

Two months ago, when the conditions seemed such that my friends believed it would be advantageous to Illinois to have my name presented as a candidate at St. Louis, I left the matter in their hands. My public duties have kept me constantly in Washington and I have made no canvass. The preference which the Republicans of the state have shown will be faithfully carried out in the national convention. If Major McKinley should be nominated it will be because of the popular belief that he most thoroughly typifies those cardinal principles of the Republican party which are embodied in our platform.

R. W. Patterson, editor Chicago Tribune, William Penn Nixon, editor Inter-Ocean, ex-Governor E. J. Oglesby of Elkhart and ex-Governor Joseph W. Fifer were selected as delegates-at-large to the national convention.

The platform declares firmly for sound money.

A motion was made to express confidence in Allison and Reed in the resolutions, but it failed.

Cameron Denies His Candidacy.

MEXICO CITY, May 1.--Senator Cameron and party have returned from Puebla. The senator says he is not a candidate for the presidency and that newspapers have manufactured the story. He is much pleased with his cordial reception here.

Expressed Preference For McKinley.

BURLINGTON, Vt., May 1.--The Republican convention in the First Vermont congressional district has named delegates to the St. Louis convention. Resolutions were adopted expressing preference for McKinley.

Bankruptcy Bill Likely to Pass.

WASHINGTON, May 1.--The general debate on the bankruptcy bill was continued and concluded in the house. The final vote will be taken at 4 o'clock on Saturday. The friends of the measure are very sanguine that it will pass by a safe majority. The surprise of the day was the announcement of Mr. Culberson (Tex.), ex-chairman of the judiciary committee, who has always heretofore fought every bankruptcy bill containing an involuntary system, that he would vote for the pending measure.

Rev. C. O. Brown Resigns.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1.--The Rev. C. O. Brown is no longer pastor of the First Congregational church. At one of the stormiest and most sensational meetings of his congregation he resigned, and by this unexpected action destroyed the plans his opponents had been making for several weeks.

THE M. E. CONFERENCE

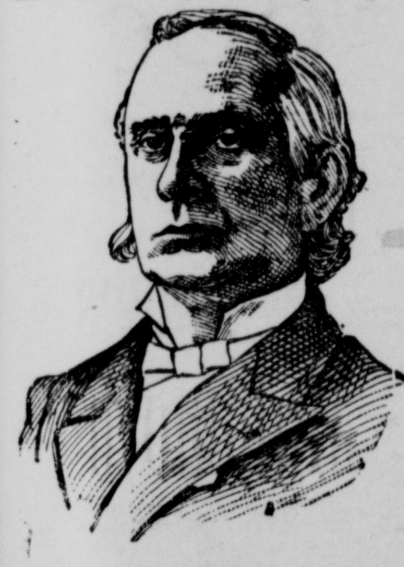

Twenty-Second Quadriennial Gathering in Cleveland.

BISHOP BOWMAN IN THE CHAIR.

The Time to Settle the Woman Delegate Question Has Come—New Bishops to Be Selected—Change of Limit of Itinerary to Be Considered.

CLEVELAND, May 1.—The twenty-second quadriennial conference of the Methodist Episcopal church convened in this city today with Bishop Bowman in the chair. Five hundred and thirty-seven delegates, coming from the four quarters of the earth, will enact legislation for the denomination which they represent.

Important questions will come up for consideration by this grave and reverend body. Four women have been elected delegates—shall they be given seats or not? The question involved has been agitated for years, and the time to settle it has come. As a rule western women desire the change; eastern women in general oppose it. Miss Frances E. Willard is head and front of the women who clamor for equal rights.

BISHOP BOWMAN.

with men in the government of the church, and Bishop Fitzgerald is her knight and champion in the contest. In fact, Fitzgerald is the radical bishop of the denomination. The leader on the conservative side is the Rev. James M. Buckley, D. D., editor of the New York Christian Advocate, one of the official organs of the church.

The proposition to admit women as lay delegates was defeated by a very narrow margin in the annual conference. The total vote is shown to be 7,515 for the admission of women and 2,329 against.

According to a provision of the discipline it is necessary for a proposition to change any of the rules of the church to receive the support of three-fourths of the members of the annual conference. According to the figures issued the women will lose by just 18 votes.

The recent death of the Rev. Dr. Sanford Hunt, church book agent of the church, leaves an important office vacant. Conjectures are entirely vain as to who will be elected his successor. The same may be said of the election of a missionary secretary to succeed the Rev. J. O. Peck, D. D., deceased.

The sentiment of the church seems to favor most decidedly the selection of a number of bishops, and a conservative estimate places it at four. Fully 30 men have been talked of for these four offices. First and foremost is Dr. J. M. Buckley, editor of the New York Christian Advocate. The strongest kind of pressure is being brought to bear to get him to accept a bishopric, but so far he has steadily refused. His health is not the best, and he dreads making a change that may take him to Texas or the Pacific coast. Other names prominently before the church are the episcopacy are: Dr. Frank Bristol of Chicago, Dr. Earl Cranston of Cincinnati, C. C. McCabe of New York, Dr. C. W. Smith of Pittsburgh, Dr. J. T. Goucher of Baltimore, Dr. J. R. Day and Dr. James King of New York, Dr. I. F. Upham, Dr. J. W. Hamilton and Dr. W. N. Broadbeck of Boston.

A momentous practical question to be decided at this meeting, is whether or not the time limit of the itinerancy shall be changed or modified. At present no minister can remain in charge of one congregation or circuit longer than five years. City pastors and congregations are in many cases opposed to the maintenance of this as an imperative rule, contending that it is prejudicial to the interest of Methodism in the centers of population. A few comparatively unimportant concessions may be made in the case of city pastors, but it is probable that the five years rule will be maintained.

Still another interesting question is the proposed elimination from the church of the rules against popular amusements. It is thought that existing rules touching amusements will be revised.

These rules were enacted in 1872 and forbid certain forms of amusement, such as "dancing, playing at games of chance, attending theatres, horse races, circuses, dancing parties or patronizing dancing schools."

It is claimed there is inconsistency in not forbidding attendance at minstrel shows, for example, while making law breakers of those who attend a performance of "Macbeth." It is contended that a general rule "such diversions as cannot be used in the name of the Lord Jesus" ought to be sufficient; and it is claimed that Methodist young people of character and cultivation have been driven into other communions by the law of 1872.

LONDON, May 1.—An explosion, by which 100 persons are believed to have perished, has occurred at Nicklefield, Yorkshire.

SECRETARY HERBERT A GUEST.

He Addresses the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce at a Banquet.

CLEVELAND, May 1.—At the annual banquet of the chamber of commerce at the Hollenden hotel last night, Secretary of the Navy Herbert and Mayor William L. Strong of New York were the guests of honor. Secretary Herbert responded to the toast, "Our Country, Its Achievements and Its Perils." Mayor Strong spoke of "The Business Management of a Great City." The only other set speech was by James H. Hoyt of Cleveland, who responded to the toast "True Citizenship."

Secretary Herbert declared that the war was worth all it cost, for it has taught the north and south respect for each other and had settled for all time the sovereignty of the federal authority. But new perils, he said, were arising. Monopoly in industrial, transportation and commercial interests was resulting in the accumulation of vast wealth in the hands of the few and promoting a feeling of discontent in the breasts of the many, which might logically lead to the adoption of a socialistic remedy.

Secretary Herbert thought, however, that the saving common sense of the people would be equal to every emergency and find a proper solution of every difficulty as it arises. What was needed, he said in conclusion, was more political education among the masses.

MISSIONARY MEETING.

Second Day's Session of the Presbyterian Convention at Portsmouth, O.

PORTSMOUTH, O., May 1.—The second day's session of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church for the Philadelphia district developed marked increase of interest in missionary work. Robert E. Speer, secretary of the board of foreign missions, and Mrs. M. E. Caldwell of South America, addressed the assembly. Mrs. J. R. Mitchell of Lima was made chairman of the committee on nominations. The re-election of the present officers was recommended. The following new missionaries were assigned to work: Miss Jane Johnson, India; Miss S. C. Megladdey, Laos; Miss A. G. Houston, Brazil; Miss Amy Waring, Persia; Miss E. C. Cunningham, Canton; Miss Jessie Scott, Bogota; Miss Charlotte E. Hawes, China; Miss Abbie May Lion, China; Miss Christina B. Herron, Louisiana; Mrs. C. C. Miller, Mexico.

An invitation has been extended to the society to hold the next meeting at Altoona, Pa.

Cause of a Railroad Wreck.

DAYTON, O., May 1.—Coroner Corbin is conducting a rigid investigation relative to Sunday night's railroad wreck, in which Charles O. Grief, the wealthy Cleveland manufacturer, was instantly killed. The testimony is not yet all in, but that received indicates clearly that the watchman and switchman gave the C. & H. D. switching crew the signal and threw open the switch, which resulted in the disaster. The Panhandle passenger had been given the right of way, and was running almost on time.

To Test Mechanics' Lien.

COLUMBUS, May 1.—Another suit has been filed in the supreme court to test the constitutionality of the mechanic's lien law enacted in 1894. The title of the case is Lion Hardware company, et al. against the circuit court of Clarke county. Several circuit courts in the state have passed upon the act, some of them declaring the law to be constitutional and others declaring it null. The Clarke county judges declared the law valid.

General Howe's Appointments.

KENTON, O., May 1.—General James C. Howe has received his commission as brigadier general of the Ohio uniform rank K. P. This brings the state headquarters to this city. The appointments made thus far are: Chief of staff, George W. Cunningham, Foster; assistant adjutant general, J. B. Fletcher, Kenton; assistant quartermaster general, Joseph Hower, Sandusky; and assistant surgeon general, S. E. Kaestlen, Cleveland.

The Stockholders Displeased.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 1.—There is great dissatisfaction among the stockholders of the Ohio steel company at the prospective permanent closing of the plant as a result of the steel pool's influence. The mills have been turning out 1,000 tons of billets a week, and many manufacturers took stock in the enterprise on the understanding that they could get billets right at home for a reasonable price.

Receiver For a Buggy Company.

COLUMBUS, May 1.—Creighton W. Black has been appointed receiver for the Ohio Buggy company. The receivership was the result of cognovit judgments taken amounting to about $45,000. The assets and liabilities are said to be about equal.

Hit by a Bulldog.

FINDLAY, O., May 1.—While playing with a bulldog a 4-year-old son of Frank Steine hit the animal over the head with a piece of gaspipe, which enraged the canine, and bit him so badly that he will be disfigured for life.

Death of Hamilton Diston.

PHILADELPHIA, May 1.—Hamilton Diston, the well-known saw manufacturer, has been found dead in bed in his home. Mr. Diston was a leader of the Republican party in this city and had figured largely in national politics. He was recently chosen a delegate from the second congressional district to the St. Louis convention.

Two Girls Drowned.

PHILADELPHIA, May 1.—Louise Adams, 28 years old of Philadelphia, and Anna Schimp, 14 years old, have been drowned in trying to cross the Delaware river in a small boat from Camden to this city. Three others who were in the boat with the two named were rescued.

George Wynn has resigned his position at the electric light plant, and left today to take up a position in the electric street railway power house at Rochester, Pa.

The Ford City arrived from Pittsburgh last night with a number of barges of stone and cement. Another large derrick was also brought down on a flat boat.

The first school picnic of the year will take place on Saturday, the scholars of Miss Betz's room starting the ball rolling by holding one on that day at Rock Spring.

The reception given at Bradshaw hall last night was well attended and an enjoyable time had by all present. Dancing was indulged in until an early hour this morning.

Thomas McCormick, of the East End, has exchanged his property for that of William Pinkerton, in the same part of the city, giving the latter $500 with the property.

A new kiln is in process of construction at Thompson's pottery on the site of an old one that was recently torn down. A new bottom is also being placed in another kiln.

The many friends of ex-Mayor Morley will be pleased to learn that his condition has taken a change for the better, and the attending physicians entertain hopes for his recovery.

A number of youths living on Thompson hill have caught the circus fever, and a few days ago they erected a tent and charged admission of one cent to see the inside performance. One lad, more intrepid than his companions, took the part of snake charmer, and placed a pet snake in his mouth, to the intense astonishment and fear of his audience. A boy named Edward Jackson is the manager of the colossal show.

There was an upset on Eighth street yesterday afternoon, caused by a horse becoming frightened at a street car. The horse was driven by a woman, who lost entire control of it, and the buggy was upset, throwing the woman and a boy who was with her, out in the road. The horse started to run, but was captured before it had gone far. The woman and boy were not injured, and as soon as the buggy was straightened up they started for their home in the country.

EPWORTH LEAGUE MEETING.

The Old Christian Endeavor Influence Causes a Struggle.

CLEVELAND, May 1.—The old struggle with the Society of Christian Endeavor influence came up in the meeting of the board of control of the Epworth League and lasted until adjournment. A report recommending that the Epworth League enter into certain co-operative with the Christian Endeavor Society was submitted by a committee which had been appointed to confer with Christian Endeavor representatives on the subject. After a long and warm debate, it was rejected and a resolution adopted pledging the fullest and most fraternal cooperation in all Christian work with the people's societies and all other young people's societies and hailing with delight the growing spirit of fraternity and anticipating the future federation of all evangelical young people's societies.

The committee on conference was continued in conformity with the purpose of federation outlined four years ago. When the Epworth League was formed, Christian endeavor societies were in existence in some of the Methodist churches. A footnote was placed in the constitution of the league allowing the young people to retain these societies as church organizations. The board of control decided to recommend to the Methodist general conference that this footnote be stricken out.

PURE TEAS.

You Can Get the Genuine Article of the Atlantic Tea Company.

It is becoming a very difficult matter to secure pure teas. Many of the smaller groceries secure the cheap, artificially colored stuff, in order that they may cater to a trade which calls for something cheap, no matter what the quality may be. The poison taken into the system by these cheap, "machine twisted" teas, is something awful. Purchasers should be very careful to avoid such stuff. Citizens should petition congress to impose a duty upon the trash, and then the people of the United States would be free from such an outrageous imposition. The ATLANTIC TEA COMPANY came to East Liverpool 12 years ago. This company has enjoyed a very prosperous trade, and is constantly increasing its business. At present writing they have the finest quarters for their specialties in the city. Why are they doing such prosperous business? Because they handle, advertise and sell pure, wholesome teas and coffees. They import their own teas, and will guarantee them. It is true economy to purchase of the ATLANTIC TEA COMPANY, because only half the quantity you use, when purchasing elsewhere, is required. Call at the ATLANTIC TEA STORE at your earliest convenience, and you will have no occasion to regret so doing. No. 120 Sixth street, Red Front.

Persons who sympathize with the afflicted will rejoice with D. E. Carr, of 1,235 Harrison street, Kansas City. He is an old sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism, but has not heretofore been troubled in this climate. Last winter he went up into Wisconsin, and in consequence had another attack. "It came upon me again very acute and severe," he said. "My joints swelled and became inflamed; sore to touch or almost to look at. Upon the urgent request of my mother-in-law I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm to reduce the swelling and ease the pain, and to my agreeable surprise, it did both. I have used three 50 cent bottles and believe it to be the finest thing for rheumatism, pains and swellings extant. For sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

Jacques Louis David.
In France art, like society, was tottering to its fall when the revolution burst and hastened the end. The spirit of which the revolution was the political outcome had also, as in the pictures of Greuze and Vien, been working beneath the surface of the art world, and with the fall of the empire these aspirations took definite shape. The art so long dedicated to whims and caprices of the aristocracy began, under the impulse of the new environment, to express the sentiments and ideals of the common people. Cut off from the past by the sword of retribution, in the turmoil of the present they sought inspiration for the future in the great acts of patriotism of the Romans. And the general intelligence of Europe, interested in the discoveries at Pompeii, gave it form on its artistic side.

These feelings and aspirations seemed to become incarnate in the work of Jacques Louis David. A friend of Robespierre and a leader in the revolution party, he on the collapse of the movement narrowly escaped with his life. But with the rise of Napoleon, who appointed him his painter in chief, his influence again became paramount, and despite the many phases art has undergone and the innumerable cliques into which painters have divided in the interval it is still, modified and touched by reality, a living force in French art. David's conception of pictorial art was somewhat cold and lifeless. He led his conferees back not to nature, but to antiquity, as expressed in sculpture. Respect for the achievements of the past underlay all his work and paralyzed his invention and resource.—Blackwood's Magazine.

PURE TEAS.

You Can Get the Genuine Article of the Atlantic Tea Company.

It is becoming a very difficult matter to secure pure teas. Many of the smaller groceries secure the cheap, artificially colored stuff, in order that they may cater to a trade which calls for something cheap, no matter what the quality may be. The poison taken into the system by these cheap, "artificially colored" teas, is something awful. Purchasers should be very careful to avoid such stuff. Citizens should petition congress to impose a duty upon the trash, and then the people of the United States would be free from such an outrageous imposition. The ATLANTIC TEA COMPANY came to East Liverpool 12 years ago. This company has enjoyed a very prosperous trade, and is constantly increasing its business. At present writing they have the finest quarters for their specialties in the city. Why are they doing such prosperous business? Because they handle, advertise and sell pure, wholesome teas and coffees. They import their own teas, and will guarantee them. It is true economy to purchase of the ATLANTIC TEA COMPANY, because only half the quantity you use, when purchasing elsewhere, is required. Call at the ATLANTIC TEA STORE at your earliest convenience, and you will have no occasion to regret so doing. No. 120 Sixth street, Red Front.

Persons who sympathize with the afflicted will rejoice with D. E. Carr, of 1,235 Harrison street, Kansas City. He is an old sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism, but has not heretofore been troubled in this climate. Last winter he went up into Wisconsin, and in consequence has had another attack. "It came upon me again very acute and severe," he said. "My joints swelled and became inflamed; sore to touch or almost to look at. Upon the urgent request of my mother-in-law I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm to reduce the swelling and ease the pain, and to my agreeable surprise, it did both. I have used three 50 cent bottles and believe it to be the finest thing for rheumatism, pains and swellings extant. For sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

Jacques Louis David.

In France art, like society, was tottering to its fall when the revolution burst and hastened the end. The spirit of which the revolution was the political outcome had also, as in the pictures of Greuze and Vien, been working beneath the surface of the art world, and with the fall of the empire these aspirations took definite shape. The art so long dedicated to whims and caprices of the aristocracy began, under the impulse of the new environment, to express the sentiments and ideals of the common people. Cut off from the past by the sword of retribution, in the turmoil of the present they sought inspiration for the future in the great acts of patriotism of the Romans. And the general intelligence of Europe, interested in the discoveries at Pompeii, gave it form on its artistic side.

These feelings and aspirations seemed to become incarnate in the work of Jacques Louis David. A friend of Robespierre and a leader in the revolution party, he on the collapse of the movement narrowly escaped with his life. But with the rise of Napoleon, who appointed him his painter in chief, his influence again became paramount, and despite the many phases art has undergone and the innumerable cliques into which painters have divided in the interval it is still, modified and touched by reality, a living force in French art. David's conception of pictorial art was somewhat cold and lifeless. He led his confreres back not to nature, but to antiquity, as expressed in sculpture. Respect for the achievements of the past underlay all his work and paralyzed his invention and resource.—Blackwood's Magazine.
